Violence*

Who is the SPCA

We are a 501(c) (3) charity, not a government agency. We are not funded with any tax dollars. Investigators employed by the Schenectady County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (SPCA) Law Enforcement Division are designated New York State Peace Officers under New York State Criminal Procedure Law section 2.10 paragraph 7. Investigators carry firearms and have custodial arrest powers. When performing their duties they may issue appearance tickets for penal law, environmental conservation law, and recreation and historic preservation law violations. Investigators may also issue uniform navigation summons and simplified traffic information's (see NYS CPL 2.20).

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

What is the SPCA

Investigators with the SPCA primarily conduct criminal investigations, execute search warrants, and make arrests for misdemeanor and felony violations of New York State's Animal Cruelty Laws (codified as New York State Agriculture and Markets Law Article 26).

Where is the SPCA

*New York State Not For Profit Corporation Law
Section 1403(a)(1)*

Any corporation for the prevention of cruelty to animals may exercise its powers and conduct its operations in any adjacent county in which no such corporation exists until the establishment of such a corporation therein. New York State Criminal Procedure Law 140.25(5).

The "geographical area of employment" of any peace officer employed as such by any private organization consists of any place in the state where he is, at a particular time, acting in the course of his particular duties or employment.

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

What we don't do

Investigators do not “catch dogs,” get involved with “dangerous dogs” or respond to complaints about a dog barking late at night. You should contact an animal control officer to assist with those issues and to capture stray and/or lost animals. Investigators are not ‘game wardens.’ Assistance with enforcing the NYS Environmental Conservation Law should be referred to the nearest NYS DEC Police Officer. We do not catch wild animals or do pest control. We do not deal with the disposal of dead animals on or alongside a roadway. You should normally contact the highway department for carcass removal.

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

Law Enforcement

It is imperative that first responders understand the connection between animal abuse and family violence.

When responding to domestic calls it is imperative to be alert for signs that children and/or pets might be victimized.

Children may be more willing to discuss what has happened to a pet than their own victimization.

The Correlation

In the United States and Canada, between 70 and 85 percent of female victims of domestic violence who left their abusers reported violence against their pets.

The threat of violence against pets is used to coerce their victims to return or to punish them if they leave. Some abusers force their victims to participate in the animal abuse in order to emotionally abuse and degrade them.

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

Women & Animal Abuse

In recent years, a strong and surprising connection has been documented linking animal abuse and domestic violence in 85 % of homes where women or children are being abused, a pet is also suffering abuse.

Women & Animal Abuse Cont.

Sixty percent of women who are the victims of domestic violence have had a pet killed by violence. Also, up to 40 percent of battered women delay going to a shelter because they fear what will happen to their pet left behind.

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

Children & Animal Abuse

One study found that in 88 percent of homes where children were physically abused, pets were mistreated too.

Victims of child abuse may themselves injure their pets in order to rehearse their own suicide, to “protect” the pet from parental torture, or because they identify with and imitate their abuser.

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

Children and the Negative Impacts of Animal Abuse

People who abused pets as children are far more likely to commit murder or other violent crimes as an adult. In fact the most reliable predictors of adult violence is animal abuse as a child, even as young as 6 years old.

A child who watches his pet or his mother being abused grows up thinking this is the norm. Children can become de-sensitized to violence. They learn that you demonstrate that you are more powerful than another creature by hitting and kicking.

Adolescence to Adulthood

Juveniles who have a history of animal abuse tend to repeat their actions.

Children who grow up abusing or being abuse become emotionally desensitized.

This becomes a severe psychological issue that often leads into more violent crimes.

Investigate

Take the time to thoroughly investigate animal complaints because the investigation could lead to animal abuse, child abuse, spousal abuse discovery or a community wide dog fighting ring.

Any concern for an animal is usually more than a suspicion.

The Bare Necessities

For all dogs that are left outdoors in inclement weather, a housing facility must be provided with these bare necessities:

- Waterproof roof
 - Be structurally sound with appropriate insulation
 - Regularly cleaned to maintain a healthy and sanitary environment
- Allow for effective removal of excretions, other waste material; dirt and trash.
- Be constructed to allow each dog adequate freedom of movement to make normal postural adjustments; the ability to stand up, turn around and lie down with its limbs outstretched

What you need to know

Be sure to document any signs of animal abuse and report it to the appropriate agency empowered to investigate animal cruelty.

Many victims will not go forward with the prosecution of their abuser. However, prosecution on animal cruelty charges can result in incarceration or treatment equivalent to what might result from a domestic violence prosecution.

Animal Cruelty Reporting Hotline 518-755-9517

Stop the Cycle

Urge your local law enforcement agencies, prosecutors, judges, and schools to take cruelty to animals seriously. Those charged with protecting our communities and animals must send a strong message that violence against any feeling creature—human or nonhuman—is unacceptable.

Be aware of signs of neglect or abuse in children and animals, and immediately report suspected crimes to authorities. Take children seriously if they report that animals are being neglected or mistreated. Some children won't talk about their own suffering but will talk about an animal's.

Don't ignore even minor acts of cruelty to animals by children. Talk to the child and the child's parents. If necessary, call a social worker
